

QUANTIK

The goal is to be the first player to pose the fourth different forms of a line, a column or a square zone

Each turn the players will put one of their pieces on the boardgame. It's forbidden to put a shape in a line, a column or an area on which this same form has already been posed by the opponent. We can only double a shape if we have played the previous one himself. The first player who places the fourth different form in a row, column or zone wins the game immediately, no matter who owns the other pieces of that winning move.

“ With Quantik, a single rule is enough to challenge your logic and tactics: it's a pure abstract. ”
